

What is the Resource and Learning Centre?

The Volunteer Success Resource and Learning Centre is a free digital library of material to help volunteers and organizations stay up to date on current topics related to volunteer management, volunteerism, best practices and more. Our goal is to provide resources to positively impact community needs, enhance volunteer experiences and support organizations' needs to increase capacity.

Why was it created?

Volunteer Success wants to strengthen volunteerism through knowledge sharing. The Resource and Learning Centre aims to inspire and inform volunteers as well as help organizations increase volunteerism by providing resources on volunteer management and engagement.

What is published?

The Resource and Learning Centre publishes articles and blogs, upcoming events and links to other resources. It also offers research and reports on the latest topics and emerging trends as well as research-based volunteer management approaches and quality standards designed to encourage volunteer participation and overall engagement.
